The special trains carrying the men and equipment had been expected to reach here today but they arrived during the night, twelve hours earlier, officers said today, than had been expected. Mustering officers said it was impossible to declare positively whether or not the militiamen would be able to reach their home by Christmas. It was explained the troopers were brought here to be mustered out rather than to Nevada, Mo., because of the permanent harracks here would be more months in the warm climate of Texas, than would tents at the Missouri encampment.

New York Stock Market

Wall St., New York, Dec. 18.—STOCKS—
Resumption of the operations today was marked by further material recoveries from the previous week's lowest levels, particularly in popular specialities, but an undertone of caution pervaded the trading, notably in the speculative group. Gains of one to two points were registered by Central Leather, International Nickel and Colorado Fuel. Shipping shares were strong with Coppers. Ralls further accumulative activity in the minor division. United States Steel opened virtually unchanged, but soon receded almost two points and Industrial Alcohol was weak. Reactionary tendency developed before the end of the first half hour.

Level swell under list week's final prices. Alcohol was the most affected at an extreme decline of 9 points and other volatile issues reflected further profession at pressure. Offerings diminished visibly later with fregular railles in the leaders and additional gains in low priced rails; notably Western Maryland, Wheeling and Lake Erle, Wabush, Chicago Great Western and M. K. and T. At midday another selling movement was witnessed.

Overcoats at $15

Positively wonders at the price. They are the same patterns in many instances that you will see in other stores marked $20.00 and $25.00. Ours are strictly hand-tailored, made in dress overcoats, ulsters, storm coats and rain-proof overcoats. In every respect, a full $20 worth, here this week $15

The price is an open coats are worth—it's as low as it is because we had the coats made from mill ends of this season's smart fabrics—we bought them way below value—we're selling them the same way. Made in Honolulu of the Native Hawaiian Koa—Strictly Hand-Made Throughout

The Ukulele has achieved sensational popularity within a very short period of time. Almost unknown three years ago outside of the Hawaiian Islands, it is now a familiar instrument in all parts of the United States—on the Pacific Coast it has become so great a fad as to verge on a craze. Now, no glee club is considered complete without a Ukulele contingent; thousands are in use in the schools and colleges. The alluring mellowness of its tone makes it a fascinating and an ideal instrument to accompany the voice. It is used with equal effect in either sentimental or rag-time melodies. The Ukulele is so simple that any one can learn to play it in a very short time; it possesses possibilities as a musical instrument which make the effort well worth while if one wishes to give it serious study.

AMERICAN MACHINE-MADE COPIES OF THE KUMALAE UKULELES—Well and correctly made, but inferior to the genuine Hawaiian instruments in tone and finish:
